CHARLEROI NAMED FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANK

Postoffice Here to be Made Depository On Sept. 18

SUCCESS IN OTHER TOWNS

Donora, Monongahela, and Monessen Have Banks Now in Operation

Information was received in Charleroi this morning to the effect that the Charleroi postoffice had been designated by the Postoffice Department of the United States Government as a postal savings depository Charleroi was named together with other towns on Saturday and the postal bank will be established here according to present arrangements on September 18.

Nearly al the towns in this vicinity have already been designated as postal savings depositories and some of the postal banks have been started and are in flourishing condition. Among them are depositories at Monessen, Donora and Monongahela, all of these having been started. The latest to be opened in this immediate section was that at Monongahela.

Postmaster J. E. McCardle of the Charleroi postoffice said this morning that he had not received any official information as yet that the local postoffice had been designated as a depository but that he had read the notice within a short time. It is probable that the government will send a man here to make arrangements for opening the bank. At present the postoffice is crowded for lack of room and with the new postal bank the office will be still more congested. New furnishings are needed it is said to properly equip the office.

Postmaster R.E. Koehler of Donora this morning said over the telephone that the bank there was proving a great success practically all the depositors being foreigners. Italians are in the majority as depositors.

Not much more than $100 can be deposited in the bank in one month and not more than $500 will be received from any one individual as a total deposit. However when that amount is reached the sum may be transferred to the government bonds. The account is opened with a one dollar deposit. Deposits must be made in dollar sums, but stamps can be purchased for lesser amounts which when presented to the dollar's worth will be accepted in lieu of the money Complete rules will probably be received by Postmaster McCardle in a few days and he will then announce the methods of receiving and making deposits. The interest paid is two per cent on deposits and 2 1-2 per cent on government bonds.

Tendered Surprise.

A very pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gehring at their new home, 610 Fifth street in the form of a beautiful Golden Oak library table, presented Saturday by employees of the Macbeth-Evans machine shops. The men made the presentation in a body, the presentation speech being made by Capt. J. K. Klein. After a number of other speeches the men departed wishing the young married couple much happiness during their wedded life.

School District is Established

Judge M'Ilvaine Hands Down Decree Apportioning Parts of Three Townships

Judge John A . McIlvaine handed down a decree at Washington on Saturday, providing for the re-establishment of the Cross Roads Independent schools district, made up of portions of South Franklin, Morris and Amwell townships. The decree does not exclude the Nelan heir's farm but the district remains as it was when abolished by the new school code.

G. B. Nelan of Charleroi, representing the Nelan heirs, objected to including the Nelan farm, preferirng to remain in the South Franklin township district The court held that the majority of the property holders of the district favored its re-establishment on the old lines and made a decree accordingly.

FOUR ARE CAPTURED IN RAID

Alleged Disorderly Joint Pulled Saturday Night

STIFF FINES ARE IMPOSED

Charged with running a disorderly house, Mrs. Bessie Perry, colored and her daughter, Blanche, are confined in the lockup awaiting the time until the former's husband, Sol Perry can find enough money to pay their fines as well as his own. The trio were arrested at their home on McKean avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets Sunday night in a raid conducted by Chief of Police C. W. Albright. In the raid another man, a white was arrested and was fined along with the rest by acting Burgess John K. Hein.

Mrs. Perry who is said to have been in charge of the place was fined $25 and costs while the others were assessed $5 and costs each. The white man paid his fine but the colored people could not scrape up the desired amount. Perry's employer stood good for his fine and Perry went to work to earn enough money to get his wife and daughter out of the lockup The trio were ordered to get out of town within five days.

When Chief Albright and his men arrived there were gay times going on it is said at the Perry manse. Upon the arrival of the police windows and doors were hastily sought by the inmates but they were closely guarded. Mrs. Perry has been under arrest before for similar offenses.

Mrs. J. R. Chalfant and two children returned this morning from Beallsville where they have visited relatives the last ten days.

COMMITTEE NAMED AT SUNDAY MEETING

Proposition to Secure Noted Evangelistic Meets With Favor Among Churches of Nearby Towns

DELEGATION OF BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT SUNDAY

Partial plans were formed at a meeting of representatives of churches of Charleroi, Monessen, Belle Vernon, Donora, Vesta and Speers at the First Presbyterian church Sunday for securing Rev. Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist for holding a big evangelistic campaign in this part of the Mononahela valley. Reports were made that a fund in the neighborhood of $6,000 would have to be subscribed before Rev. Sunday could be induced to come. This sum is to be in the nature of a guarantee fund to be used in case of accident.

Rev. Wallace of the Baptist church and Rev. Hughes of the Christian church, Monessen, made reports of a former trip they had taken to see Rev. Sunday. They said that he demanded a tabernacle to be erected before he would come. The tabernacle he asks for is one to seat not less than 5,000 persons.

As a finality different committees were appointed among them being one on finance. Another committee will be named by the pastors of the various churches interested in the movement this committee to select a delegation of business men to interview Sunday with the idea of having him name his earliest possible open date. Churches of towns between Roscoe and Monongahela inclusive are intrested in the move and it is likely that at another meeting to be held within two weeks at the Christian church, Monessen, there will be a representation from each denomination

JAW BROKEN; MAN STICKS TO HIS JOB

After Working Awhile He Goes for a Shave and Then Hunts Doctor

An extraordinary illustration of the power of some men to endure excruciating pain was shown Saturday at Monongahela when a man with a broken jaw, walked several miles, got shaved, went to a dentist and later to a physician.

F. L. Mermann, of Elizabeth, a repairman of engines, was engaged in the repairing of a steam pump at the Roth brewery. In the course of his work a heavy bar fell from the engine and struck him on the point of the jaw. The injury gave him much pain and after continuing the work for some time he decided to go to town. He walked in from the brewery went to the barber shop of Frank Tische, in Monongohela, was shaved and then went to the dental parlors of Dr. E. L. Yohe, thinking that the pain was due to an injured tooth. An examination by Dr. Yore elicited the information that the man's jaw was broken. Dr. C. F. Linn was announced and attended his injuries and later he was removed to his home in Elizabeth.

DECISION FAVORS FAIR ASSOCIATION

Injunction Refused in Case of Woman Against County Organization

In an opinion rendered Saturday, Judge McIlvaine refuses to grant an injunction against J. W. McKay, and the Washington Fair association, as prayed for by Mrs. Anna M. J. Burgan, of Carnegie, owner of a farm adjoining the grounds of the association at Arden. The farm is under lease to the defendants, with an option to buy

A portion of the track of the association is on the Burgan farm and several buildings and a roadway

The plaintiff sought to restrain the defendants from in any manner removing certain buildings on her land, from making certain excavations, and from committing other alleged damages on her place. She also sought damages for these alleged depredations on her farm.

The court in brief, finds there are not sufficient facts to restrain the defendants, and that the plaintiff will be more benefited under the terms of the agreement, should the association not take the farm under the option, than she would be damaged by what the association has done on her place in removing buildings, taking down trees and grading, etc

The action against the association and the outcome of the suit was important, as it had an important bearing on the fair next month.

THOUSANDS ATTEND ON FIRST SUNDAY

Campmeeting Grounds at Bentleyville Thronged With People

Over 8,000 persons including many Charleroi people were inattendance at the Bentleyville camp meeting Sunday and the crowds were only one feature of a great day. Bishop Berry preached both morning and evening, the music was an attraction and the religious enthusiasm was marked.

Saturday afternoon the sermon for old soldiers was attended by many veterans of the Civil war and their friends. There was an unusual turnout of cottagers, owing to the delightful weather and the good condition of the roads leading to the camp grounds.

No serious accidents were reported and the great crowds seemed to have been attracted by a desire to spend the day in worship in the open. Bentleyville camp has always been an important event, but the audiences of this season indicate a growing interest in the religious features.

JUDGE CRITICIZES COUNTY JUSTICES

Too Many Trivial Cases Claimed to be Sent to Court for Hearing

Judge McIlvaine took occasion during the progress of court last week to criticise justices who send petty cases to court, which should be disposed of finally by them, without being sent to court.

The remarks were made during the hearing of a surety of the peace case, a mere back yard scrap between two women. Judge McIlvaine remarked that such cases should never be sent to court, but should be disposed of by the justice. "There is no surety of the peace charge," said the court, in the course of these remarks, "when parties merely get into a squabble. Surety of the peace arises when some one cooly, maliciously and with wilful intent intends to kill or do bodily harm. It is the justice's duty, where it is only a scrap and an exchange of threats in a heat of passion, to discharge the cases and divide the costs. They have this authority under the late act of assembly In this case the justice ought to be here, instead of these people. It is mere idle talk, and not surety of the peace within the meaning of the act."

Misses Marion and Gertrude Sloan went to Scio, Ohio, Sunday to remain several days as the guests of relatives

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Sloan have gone to Mt. Clemens, Mich., where the latter will remain for some time for the benefit of her health.

PARADE TO BE FEATURE

Military Organizations From Other Towns Expected to Participate

Preparations are being rapidly completed for the annual reunion of the Ringgold Battalion of the 22nd Pennsylvania Calvary, to be held in Belle Vernon on August 30 and 31. The remnant of the noted band of warriors, made up from many sections, will be tendered a royal welcome by the soldiery of Belle Vernon.

Various committees have charge of the arrangements. W. S. Harvey has been chosen chief marshall with power to select his own aides.

The welcome will be tendered to the battalion after it has formed on Main street at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and Col A. J. Greenfield, of Chicago, Ill., probably the most noted living member of the Ringgold calvary will respond After the greeting the old soldiers will repair to the various restaurants and hotels where they will secure their dinners.

A parade will be one of the chief features. On the second day of the reunion it is stated, the campfire will be held at Taggart's Hall. Military organizations from Belle Vernon and towns along the valley will attend and participate.

The Belle Vernon Rifles, having been honored by having extended to them the right of inviting independent military companies of the valley have asked the Charleroi Brigade commanded by Capt. R. Dale Jolliffe, the Brownsville Light Infantry, commanded by Capt. Fred Wright, the Monessen Cadets and the Monongahela Brigade, together with Company E. of the Boys' Brigade, of Charleroi commanded by Capt. Charles Wallgren to participate in the parade and other events of the reunion.

It is expected that nearly every member of the Ringgold Battalion now living will attend the reunion. It will be the 38th held since the Civil War, one of the most successful reunions being held in Charleroi in 1907.

Monongahela Postoffice Becomes a Depository

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN

The Monongahela Postal Savings Bank was thrown open for business Saturday and from the interest that is being manifested in the movement it gives promise of being a successful venture in that city.

THE OUTDOOR HABIT

John Burroughs, the noted naturalist, has just given the human race a sage bit of advice. "Balance up things more," he says. "Money is not the whole thing. Live much in the open not too much under cover." For many years Mr. Burroughs has practiced what he preaches. He has lived much in the open, and now in his old age he presents the enviable picture of a hardy, hearty, happy person to whom life is still worth living. He preaches the creed of the simple life and lives his creed.

There is altogether too much of the indoor life. It is bad for the blood, for the nerves, for the digestion, for the whole human anatomy. It is harmful physically, mentally and morally. We live too much under cover, roofed in from the sunshine and the air. We should cultivate the outdoor habit. That outdoor life is the natural life is indicated by the fact that children cannot be kept indoors except under compulsion. Summer and winter spring and fall, the youngsters insist upon getting outside of the house. Unless tied to the bedpost or barricaded against exit they will escape from their house prisons and enjoy the freedom of the great outdoors.

As the years pass the indoor habit grows upon the child and he is less inclined to outdoor pleasures But this is largely a matter of the necessity for money making which holds most of us in its leash. We must stay under cover if our occupation confines us to office or shop. A living must be made out from under cover unless we make the mistake of imagining that money is the whole thing. Now and then there comes a time when we yield to the impulse that ruled us in childhood and that means a camping out excursion or a picnic party or perhaps merely a couch in a screened porch for sleeping purposes. There are many bad habits, but the outdoor habit is one of the good ones.

HOW TO LIVE CHEAPLY.

A magazine writer gives the trenchent advice that to live cheaply you must substitute comfort for show Put convenience in the place of fashion. Study simplicity. Refuse to be beguiled into a style of living above what is required by your position in society and is justified by your resources. Set a fashion of simplicity, neatness, prudence and inepensiveness which otners will be glad to follow and thank you for introducing. Teach yourself to do without a thousand and one pretty and showy things which wealthy people purchase, and pride yourself on being just as happy without them as your rich neighbors are with them. Put on much dignity, sincerity, kindness, virtue and love into your simple and inexpensive home that its members will never miss the costly flipperies and showy adornments of _____ be happier in the cosy and comfortable apartments than most of our wealthy neighbors are in their splendid apartments.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Connie Mack's pitchers run the game," says a well known baseball writer in an eastern newspaper.

"'Take the pitcher's judgment,' was an early season order from Manager Mack and he never changed it," said Paddy Livingston, Athletic catcher. "Chief Bender and Eddie Plank used their own judgment the season before last and did so well the rule was made general. 'Everybody must use his head,' is one of Connie's rules.

"One advantage of the pitcher's judgment counting is in the help he gets from the infielders. Our infielders were the pitcher's advisers. They watched the battle as closely as the battery men. That was part of work.

"Connie doesn't count a stolen base on the catcher. It is even between the pitcher and catcher. 'No catcher can get a base runner who is allowed too much of a lead,' is the way Connie puts it.

"There was never a call down for the pitcher of catcher where Connie believed a fast ball should have been used instead of a curve or vice versa. We were expected to know what to do. Advice came before or after the game and then it was up to both pitcher and catcher

"Mack does a lot of things different from other managers I have played for. Every man on the team has his ear when a suggestion is made. We were all called upon to dig up something at daily dope meetings."

"A couple of fighters on a ball club help a whole lot," says Catcher "Nig" Clarke of St.. Louis.

"A ball player should fight. These easy going fellows never get anything for their team. They let everybody else run over them.

"If I do say it myself, old Bill Bradley and I were the only 'crabs' on the Cleveland club. We would make our kick and be chased from the game, but would be right back again the next day hollering for our rights."

WORKING ON THE WAYNESBURG ROAD

O. K. Taylor, assistant engineer of the State Highway Department, has a force of surveyors going over the route of the proposed State road between Washington and Waynesburg. At present the corps of engineers are in the neighborhood of Prosperity. The route instead of following the creek road, as many expected, goes over the hill from Prosperity by way of the farms of S. D. Minton, J. B. Andrew, John L. Parkinson and others, to Sparta, thence to the Parcell place, thence by way of the residence of Wiley Day, C. H. Andrew, Hugh Auld and others to Ninevah, thence by the creek road to Sycomore and Waynesburg. The Sparta route is reported a mile shorter than the other.

Engineer Taylor said that the state department has given instructions to survey 216 miles of road in Washington county and several miles in Greent county. Complete surveys of all the proposed state roads in Washington and Greent counties must be reported to the department by June 1, 1912.

GOOD REMEDY FOR HICCOUGH

Spasmodic Contractions of Diaphragm Stopped Instantly by Small Quantity of Powdered Sugar.

Hiccough is a sudden and spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm, determining a brusque shock to the walls of the abdominal and thoracic cavity, and is accompanied by a rough and inarticulate sound caused by the sudden closure and sonorous vibration of the vocal cords.

Among the numerous remedies employed against the disagreeable symptoms there is one recommended by Dr. Petit of Beaumont, France, which, although not really new, is but little known. It has the merit of being extremely simple and is said to be remarkably efficacious.

It consists simply in swallowing as quickly as possible a tablespoonful of powdered sugar without any admixture with water The hiccough will be immediately stopped If it comes on again, the same remedy again will be found successful.

What is the action of the powdered sugar? Probably it sets up a kind of reflex action. The sugar certainly plays no specific role in this case, and it is probable that any inert powder would have the same effect.

Dr. Petit has made use of this remedy for some years, and it has rarely failed. Accordingly he recommends recourse to it even when the case of hiccoughs may have resisted all the standard remedies

The Child Snob.

There is a natural, simple and rather high-minded etiquette among children; also is there an unlovely and artificial etiquette among children who have heard and seen too much of an unlovely world; for children can be the worst of snobs Some little girls, ten or twelve years old, daughters of a rich neighborhood, were found to be examining the petticoats of new children who ventured in their neighborhood to play Unless their underclothes were hand-made, they were not voted good enough to play in the established set!

A child may be cruelly ostracized for some difference, some lack of clothing or appearance. Do you remember the story of the poor little girl who used to bring blocks tied up in a napkin to school to look as though she had lunch like the other children? But among unspoiled and natural children the child who is different need not suffer for any length of time. A strong character and a sweet temperament will win through any artificial barrier of circumstances.—The Designer

Faithful to Duty.

When the army of Pompey stormed and took Jerusalem, at the moment the temple was taken, the priests were engaged with the daily sacrifice, and amid all the horrors which surrounded them, they continued their solemn duties unmoved, thinking it better to suffer whatever came upon them at their very altars than to omit anything their law required.

Cultivate Character.

Character is like stock in trade: the more of it a man possesses, the greater his facilities for making additions to it. Character is power—is influence; it makes friends creates funds; draws patronage and support, and opens a sure and easy way to wealth and happiness.

The Sleep of Children.

There is no physiological reason for concluding that either the night or the morning sleep is the more healthful. Children are, generally, night-sleepers, nevertheless there are children who, after they reach their third year, sleep in the morning. If a child sleeps late, there is no reason for anxiety as long as his sleep is calm and of adequate length.

HIS NAME MOST APPROPRIATE

"Knapp" It Was and Drowsy Delegate Proceeded to Live Up to Cognomen.

During the morning prior to the opening of the national convention, a special meeting of those delegates already arrived was held to discuss and vote on some preliminary measures. These met in a smaller hall, opposite the convention hall; and when they were all assembled in the stuffy room, one of the members leaned back wearily in his chair and promptly fell asleep.

After an hour's session, the chairman called a vote on a certain measure. All responded but the sleeper, whose snores now and then echoed through the room.

"Here! wake that man up!" demanded the chairman, at this point. "What's his name, anyway?"

No one being able to tell, and no one following the chairman's order to wake the sleeper up, that functionary at once called upon a ballot clerk to carry out the order. So accordingly the clerk hurried down the aisle to the dozer, shook him vigorously by the arm, asking him his name the while.

With a broken snore tha' perforated the atmosphere, the sleeper awoke.

"What's his name?" again called out the impatient chairman.

At this, the clerk straightened up from the unknown member's chair, and announced, to the accompaniment of a roar of laughter.

"Mr. chairman, he says his name is Knapp."—Judge's Library.

USEFUL ABOUT THE HOUSE

Ammonia Cleans Clothing and Paint and Is Good for Numerous Other Purposes.

In housekeeping ammonia has many uses. It is an efficient help about the wardrobe. Black material, sponged with a cupful of water in which a teaspoonful of ammonia has been mixed, will renew its freshness, while black silk will lose its objectionable shininess by such a sponging. A little ammonia will remove grease from collars, and when rubbed over corsets will cleanse them to a nicety. When mixed with equal parts of turpentine, ammonia will remove paint stains from cloth. If the paint is stubborn it may require several applications before the work is done. Persevere. Nothing is so good for boys' tweed suits as to sponge them with the ammonia mixture. For toilet use, a small quantity will soften the water in which the hair is washed and aid in cleansing the scalp. It renders the bath delightful, and carpets, when thoroughly gone over with ammonia and water, are surprisingly restored to something like their original freshness. When mixed with white wax and turpentine it makes the best of polishes for the floor. To relieve the pain and prevent inflammation resulting from the bites and stings of summer insects ammonia ranks first as a cure.

Portrait Ring Is Novelty.

One of the novelties of the season is the portrait ring. To all appearance the circlet is an ordinary signet ring with the head massively set. At one side, however, is a spring, which, when pressed, causes the top of the seal to leap back, the signet in reality forming a miniature box. A tiny portrait on copper in colors or monochrome is then disclosed to view.

Coming Celebration.

A little girl in Sabetha, Kan., is to be baptized next Sunday, and she is proudly telling her friends that she is to be "advertised."

GRIPS AS MUSCLE BUILDERS

Traveling Salesman Seems to Have Idea Which Might Really Be Called a Good One.

After dinner they were discussing athletics, and each had his favorite method of reducing or building up. The traveling salesman proudly called attention to a remarkable development of biceps which swelled up beneath his coat sleeve.

"Very good, indeed," said the professor, testing with his fingers. "How do you accomplish it?"

"My method is extremely simple and takes no time away from my work. In fact, it is a result. These muscles have been developed by carrying heavily loaded 'grips,' as we usually call our big handbags on the road. I always carry two, loaded as nearly alike as possible, so I shall not grow one-sided. I began with only one grip, and swung it from one hand to the other, as fatigue impelled, but I found that it is actually easier to carry two than one. I am perfectly balanced with two, and I assure you I need no extra gym work for strengthening my arms, shoulders or back. I almost could carry a piano in each hand if the instruments were not so cumbersome."

CUT OUT FOR A FINANCIER

Youth Beginning Well and Father Seemed Abundantly Justified in His Reasoning.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush.

"Say, Pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a three-hundred-dollar horse for one-fifty will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?"

"What kind of a hoss, my son?" inquired the father cautiously.

"Bay, 4 years old, sixteen hands high, weighs 1,000 pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world;" and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty."

The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk.

"What?" he exclaimed.

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading hosses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business."—Lippincott's

ROOM THAT IS SOUND-PROOF

Remarkable Chamber at University of Utrecht That Was Constructed for Scientific Experiments.

The Physiological institute of the University of Utrecht possesses one of the most remarkable rooms in the world, a chamber about seven and a half feet square, which is said to be absolutely noiseless, as far as the entrance of sounds from outside is concerned.

This room is situated on the top story of a laboratory building, and is an inside room, but so arranged that it can be ventilated and inundated with sunshine. The walls, floors and ceiling each consist of half a dozen layers of different substances, with air spaces and interstices filled with sound-deadening materials.

Some persons when in the room experience a peculiar sensation in the ears. While every effort has been made to exclude sounds that are not wanted, of course the object of constructing this singular room was to experiment with phenomena connected with sound. Some of the sounds employed are made in the room itself; others are introduced from outside by means of a copper tube, which is plugged with lead when not in use.

What's the Matter With Thomas?

There are some names which seem peculiarly suited to royalty; Louis, for instance, has a kingly sound. Francis, George, Henry in both spellings, Charles, William, Edward and James all have served their turn. Johns there have been, and Stephens. I remember a Robert in Sicily and a Peter in Russia and Servia. Frederick has often worn the crown, and royal honors are even now paid to Ferdinand in Bulgaria. But was there ever, anywhere, a king named Thomas? Oscars and even Haakens ascend the dais, but ever through all the centuries Thomas remains the subject, sometimes struggling up to a bishopric or an earldom, but never attaining the crown. Nicholases wear the imperial purple; Godfreys lord it over Jerusalem; Alexis struts in ermine; Alexanders fare forth to conquest; Julius and Leo don the triple crown, but Thomas, poor plebeian Thomas, has never a crown to his name. Now tell me, you who are wise in the occult influence of names, what is the matter with Tom?—London Idler.

Washington as a Humorist.

While president Washington's humor seemed to find expression in the diplomacy of self protection. A French revolutionist came to him for a general testimonial, which Washington did not care to grant, yet he did not wish to give offense to the French by a curt refusal, so he wrote an evasive card worthy of Lincoln—"C. Volney needs no recommendation from G. Washington."

After Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown Washington treated him with high consideration. At a dinner given in honor of the distinguished prisoner Rochambeau proposed "The United States" as his toast; Washington responded with "The king of France;" Cornwallis, perforce, faintly suggested "His majesty," when Washington startled them all by announcing, "The king of England—may he stay there!" with a ready wit that made even Cornwallis laugh.—Century.

Cards and Card Playing.

In a paper in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Professor H. Cheney, discussing the part played by gambling in magic, observes: "The use of cards is said to be derived from the Turot cards, which were originally employed for occult purposes. The legend which ascribes the invention of cards to the purpose of amusing a mad king does not seem at all a sufficient explanation, and there is in addition the fact that cards of a kind existed before the said king. In further support of this idea the well known practice of telling fortunes by cards may probably be regarded as a survival of a regular form of divination by such means. It seems, in fact, that card playing for stakes is a mere development of a ceremony in which individuals consulting the oracle decided to abide by its pronouncements as to the holding of disputed property.

Meteors and the Atmosphere.

One of the most useful results arising from the study of sporadic meteors is the light thrown upon the question of the height of the atmosphere, since it is the friction of the air that sets them on fire, and if their elevation is known at the moment of their first appearance the probable height of the atmosphere can be calculated. On Aug. 11, 1909, a brilliant meteor happened to impress its picture simultaneously on three photographic plates, at Tashkend, Iskander and Tschimgan, in Russian Turkestan. The distances between these places furnished base lines from which the height could be deduced. The calculation shows that the meteor first appeared at a height of 69.45 miles above the earth and disappeared at fifty miles.

The Orange In Spain.

It is considered a very healthful thing to eat an orange before breakfast. But who can eat an orange well? One must go to Spain to see that done. The senorita cuts off the rind with her silver knife, then, putting her fork into the peeled fruit, she detaches every morsel with her pearly teeth and continues to eat the orange without losing a drop of the juice and lays down the core with the fork still in it.

Unpalatable.

The Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon was fond of a joke, and his keen wit was, moreover, based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"Can you tell me the reason why the lions didn't eat Daniel?"

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone and the rest was grit."—Youth's Companion.

Going the Rounds.

Husband of Tomorrow (reviewing wedding presents)—That awful cruet seems familiar. Wife of Tomorrow—Yes, dear, you saw it at the Browns. They got it as a wedding present and gave it to the Smiths at theirs. It's the Smiths' present. But never mind, dear; Harry's wedding comes off soon! —London Opinion.

Adroit.

"He is what you might call an adroit man."

"Decidedly. His sins never find him out and his debts never find him in."—Exchange.

WHAT THE GUEST SHOULD BE

Cheerful, Adaptable Man or Woman Will Leave Happy Memory Behind on Leaving.

With the advent of summer comes the beginning of the period when the distinction and the pleasure of being a guest comes to a great many men and women. With the ready assimilation of the American people we have taken that exotic phrase, the week-end, to our common usage. And whether we are invited to go sailing in a hundred-dollar catboat, roughing it literally in a shanty called a bungalow, or enjoying the luxuries of a rich friend's country estate, we are all week-ending with the same catholicity of spirit that we show in the national habit of carrying suit cases. Hospitality has two faces—those of the host and the guest. And the most difficult one to present with an attractive mien is that of the latter estate. Cheerfulness is the most desirable characteristic of the ideal guest and second to this comes a readiness of spirit to enter any plan for the day or the night's pleasure. The adaptable man or woman is the one dearest to a host's heart; and you may pluck the reward of your entertainer's gratitude by your readiness to wash dishes as by your tolerance of a dub player at tennis or bridge in more luxurious surroundings. We all of us pay our way through the world through other mediums than that of the currency of the realm. None does this more certainly than the guest who leaves a happy memory behind him.—Philadelphia Press.

Various Uses for the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bowstrings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

Persistent Rooks.

Rooks have built a nest on a telephone pole in a busy thoroughfare in the center of Dover. As soon as the nest assumed any dimensions it fell, or was blown from the pole, and then the birds attached it to the insulators. Telephone employes knocked the nest down but, undaunted, the birds set to work and have built again.

Modern Teachers Criticised.

Our educators are owl-wise, our teachers are pedants and all their ambition is the turning out of smooth, well-polished philistines. It is certainly unfortunate that the favored type of superintendent of our public education should be such a hopeless philistine, possessed of all the conceit of the mediocre business man. Routine is his ideal. Originality is spurned and suppressed—Dr. Boris Sidis.

Once Was Enough.

Kindness.

It is kindness that makes life's capabilities blossom and paints them with their cheering hues and endows them with their invigorating fragrance. Whether it waits on its superiors, or ministers to its inferiors, or disports itself with its equals, its work is marked with a prodigality which the strictest discretion cannot blame.

Have an Aim in Life.

Go into a factory where they make mariners' compasses, and you may see the needles before they have been magnetized. They will then point in any direction, but from the moment they are applied to the magnet they point to the north, and are true to the pole ever afterward. In this they are like the young man before and after he has a purpose in life.

White Man's Burden.

As a general thing we are quite sorry for the man who has to work for a living and maintain a set of neat little side-whiskers at the same time.

What Fear Did.

A wealthy man in New York committed suicide when his doctor told him he had appendicitis. A post mortem revealed that he did not have it. His fear of evil was worse than the evil itself.—Prov. 1:33.

Easing a Cough.

For children who have passed the baby stage, linseed tea is the best thing known to ease a cough. Pour two quarts of boiling water on one ounce of whole linseed and twelve drachms of licorice root sliced. Add to this a slice or two of lemon. Let this stand in a jug covered over for six or seven hours, then strain it and sweeten to taste and it will be ready for use.

Adds to Life of Boilers.

By subjecting boilers to weak electric currents from dynamos through apparatus he has invented, an Australian scientist claims to prevent their corrosion by the electro-chemical action of the water.

"TILLIE" DEWAR HAS ANOTHER YEAR OF FOOTBALL YET

Herbert "Tillie" Dewar of California, a former well known Charleroi man has another year in football at Pitt, but he is undecided as to whether he will return this fall. Joe Thompson is counting upon his returning and working at quarter. With a hard schedule to play, Thompson would surely miss Dewar were he not to enter college. Dewar is one of the hardiest players on the team, and to the grandstand it looked as though Thompson entrusted him with the risky work in the tight places during the hard games.

MISUNDERSTANDINGS RESULT IN NO GAME ON PRICEDALE LOT

Through a misunderstanding there was no game between Pricedale and the Charleroi Independents Saturday afternoon at Pricedale. Members of the Pricedale team, it appears, delayed somewhat in getting their advertising matter out, and changed the time of the game from 3:45 o'clock to 5 o'clock There were further misunderstandings and the result was that the Charleroi team appearing on the ground found nobody in sight They left after practicing a while.

Develop Individuality.

Care should be taken in the large family that each child develops an individuality, says the London Sketch Sometimes, especially in the case of girls, it is a good idea to send children to different schools This seems an extreme measure, but is worth the consideration of the parents who find that their brood are dropping into slovenly habits of speech, into codes and rules of their own, and a general contempt and disregard of the rest of the world

To Settle Boundary Dispute.

The century-old dispute over the boundary between Persia and Turkey in Asia from Mt. Ararat south to the Persian gulf seems to be at last in a fair way to be settled. At a conference recently held in Constantinople both governments agreed to submit the points in contest to The Hague tribunal and to abide by its decision.

SEEMINGLY STRONG PLAYERS NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

This Year Great Time for Petering Out of Minors in Fast Company

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

"Every club in the American League has at least on player of whom great things were expected, or who started well, but petered out. This is a great season for exploded phenoms," says the Cleveland Press.

Wise old Connie Mack stands out as the manager who was fooled worst Connie was stung on Lefty Russell, for whom he gave Baltimore $12,500. Russell was a sensation in the Eastern league last season, but the step from a fast minor league into fast company was too much for Lefty. Connie admitted he was stung when he asked for waivers on Russell, and Lefty would be in some minor league now had not the Cubs refused to pass up claim on him. Russell has been in seven games. He remained to finish only three of the seven, and all three were defeats.

Ping Bodie isn't slugging any more for the White Sox, and Frank Lange, counted as a sure star pitcher after brilliant work last season, has disappointed Comiskey

Jack Lively started like a wonderful pitcher for the Tigers, but has fallen by the wayside.

'Gene Elliott and Otis Johnson, Yankee infielders, failed to deliver the goods after showing brilliant form in Chris. Nunamaker, young Red Sox catcher, looked like a real star the first three weeks of the season, but catches now only when Bill Carrigan isn't fit. Joe Jackson started Nunamaker down hill when the Red Sox were at League park the first time this season. Joe was on third and another Nap on first and a double steal was attempted. Joe started in, stopped until Nunamaker started to throw to second and then scored. Patsy Donovan didn't use Nunamaker again for a week.

Bill Cunningham, whom Jim McAleer thought was a sure star second baseman, isn't playing after a long trial at second.

Williams and Murray, St. Louis outfielders, who looked good at the start of the season, went before a month was past.

Crum Kaler is the big Nap disappointment.

Easily Ahead.

An Irishman who was fond of the liquor came home one night all in, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch says. Four or five of his friends carried him out to a graveyard, dug a hole and put him down there to sleep off his jag When he woke in the morning he climbed out of the hole and looked all around the cemetery. "By gorra," he said. "I'm the first one up, anyway."

Shipwreck Safer.

It is getting so that it is safer to be shipwrecked on the ocean than it is to be a passenger in a skidding automobile.—Syracuse Herald.

CHARLEROI NAMED FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANK

Postoffice Here to be Made Depository On Sept. 18

SUCCESS IN OTHER TOWNS

Donora, Monongahela, and Monessen Have Banks Now in Operation

Information was received in Charleroi this morning to the effect that the Charleroi postoffice had been designated by the Postoffice Department of the United States Government as a postal savings depository. Charleroi was named together with other towns on Saturday and the postal bank will be established here according to present arrangements on September 18.

Nearly al the towns in this vicinity have already been designated as postal savings depositories and some of the postal banks have been started and are in flourishing condition. Among them are depositories at Monessen, Donora and Monongahela, all of these having been started. The latest to be opened in this immediate section was that at Monongahela.

Postmaster J. E. McCardle of the Charleroi postoffice said this morning that he had not received any official information as yet that the local postoffice had been designated as a depository but that he had read the notice within a short time. It is probable that the government will send a man here to make arrangements for opening the bank. At present the postoffice is crowded for lack of room and with the new postal bank the office will be still more congested. New furnishings are needed it is said to properly equip the office.

Postmaster R.E. Koehler of Donora this morning said over the telephone that the bank there was proving a great success practically all the depositors being foreigners. Italians are in the majority as depositors.

Not much more than $100 can be deposited in the bank in one month and not more than $500 will be received from any one individual as a total deposit. However when that amount is reached the sum may be transferred to the government bonds. The account is opened with a one dollar deposit. Deposits must be made in dollar sums, but stamps can be purchased for lesser amounts which when presented to the dollar's worth will be accepted in lieu of the money Complete rules will probably be received by Postmaster McCardle in a few days and he will then announce the methods of receiving and making deposits. The interest paid is two per cent on deposits and 2 1-2 per cent on government bonds.

Tendered Surprise.

A very pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gehring at their new home, 610 Fifth street in the form of a beautiful Golden Oak library table, presented Saturday by employees of the Macbeth-Evans machine shops. The men made the presentation in a body, the presentation speech being made by Capt. J. K. Finn. After a number of other speeches the men departed wishing the young married couple much happiness during their wedded life.

School District is Established

Judge M'Ilvaine Hands Down Decree Apportioning Parts of Three Townships

Judge John A . McIlvaine handed down a decree at Washington on Saturday, providing for the re-establishment of the Cross Roads Independent schools district, made up of portions of South Franklin, Morris and Amwell townships. The decree does not exclude the Nelan heir's farm but the district remains as it was when abolished by the new school code.

G. B. Nelan of Charleroi, representing the Nelan heirs, objected to including the Nelan farm, preferirng to remain in the South Franklin township district The court held that the majority of the property holders of the district favored its re-establishment on the old lines and made a decree accordingly.

FOUR ARE CAPTURED IN RAID

Alleged Disorderly Joint Pulled Saturday Night

STIFF FINES ARE IMPOSED

Charged with running a disorderly house, Mrs. Bessie Perry, colored and her daughter, Blanche, are confined in the lockup awaiting the time until the former's husband, Sol Perry can find enough money to pay their fines as well as his own. The trio were arrested at their home on McKean avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets Sunday night in a raid conducted by Chief of Police C. W. Albright. In the raid another man, a white was arrested and was fined along with the rest by acting Burgess John K. Hein.

Mrs. Perry who is said to have been in charge of the place was fined $25 and costs while the others were assessed $5 and costs each. The white man paid his fine but the colored people could not scrape up the desired amount. Perry's employer stood good for his fine and Perry went to work to earn enough money to get his wife and daughter out of the lockup. The trio were ordered to get out of town within five days.

When Chief Albright and his men arrived there were gay times going on it is said at the Perry manse. Upon the arrival of the police windows and doors were hastily sought by the inmates but they were closely guarded. Mrs. Perry has been under arrest before for similar offenses.

Mrs. J. R. Chalfant and two children returned this morning from Beallsville where they have visited relatives the last ten days.

COMMITTEE NAMED AT SUNDAY MEETING

Proposition to Secure Noted Evangelistic Meets With Favor Among Churches of Nearby Towns

DELEGATION OF BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT SUNDAY

Partial plans were formed at a meeting of representatives of churches of Charleroi, Monessen, Belle Vernon, Donora, Vesta and Speers at the First Presbyterian church Sunday for securing Rev. Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist for holding a big evangelistic campaign in this part of the Mononahela valley. Reports were made that a fund in the neighborhood of $6,000 would have to be subscribed before Rev. Sunday could be induced to come. This sum is to be in the nature of a guarantee fund to be used in case of accident.

Rev. Wallace of the Baptist church and Rev. Hughes of the Christian church, Monessen, made reports of a former trip they had taken to see Rev. Sunday. They said that he demanded a tabernacle to be erected before he would come. The tabernacle he asks for is one to seat not less than 5,000 persons.

As a finality different committees were appointed among them being one on finance. Another committee will be named by the pastors of the various churches interested in the movement this committee to select a delegation of business men to interview Sunday with the idea of having him name his earliest possible open date. Churches of towns between Roscoe and Monongahela inclusive are intrested in the move and it is likely that at another meeting to be held within two weeks at the Christian church, Monessen, there will be a representation from each denomination

After Working Awhile He Goes for a Shave and Then Hunts Doctor

An extraordinary illustration of the power of some men to endure excruciating pain was shown Saturday at Monongahela when a man with a broken jaw, walked several miles, got shaved, went to a dentist and later to a physician.

F. L. Mermann, of Elizabeth, a repairman of engines, was engaged in the repairing of a steam pump at the Roth brewery. In the course of his work a heavy bar fell from the engine and struck him on the point of the jaw. The injury gave him much pain and after continuing the work for some time he decided to go to town. He walked in from the brewery went to the barber shop of Frank Tische, in Monongohela, was shaved and then went to the dental parlors of Dr. E. L. Yohe, thinking that the pain was due to an injured tooth. An examination by Dr. Yore elicited the information that the man's jaw was broken. Dr. C. F. Linn was announced and attended his injuries and later he was removed to his home in Elizabeth.

DECISION FAVORS FAIR ASSOCIATION

Injunction Refused in Case of Woman Against County Organization

In an opinion rendered Saturday, Judge McIlvaine refuses to grant an injunction against J. W. McKay, and the Washington Fair association, as prayed for by Mrs. Anna M. J. Burgan, of Carnegie, owner of a farm adjoining the grounds of the association at Arden. The farm is under lease to the defendants, with an option to buy

A portion of the track of the association is on the Burgan farm and several buildings and a roadway

The plaintiff sought to restrain the defendants from in any manner removing certain buildings on her land, from making certain excavations, and from committing other alleged damages on her place. She also sought damages for these alleged depredations on her farm.

The court in brief, finds there are not sufficient facts t o restrain the defendants, and that the plaintiff will be more benefited under the terms of the agreement, should the association not take the farm under the option, than she would be damaged by what the association has done on her place in removing buildings, taking down trees and grading, etc

The action against the association and the outcome of the suit was important, as it had an important bear-

THOUSANDS ATTEND ON FIRST SUNDAY

Campmeeting Grounds at Bentleyville Thronged With People

Over 6,000 persons including many Charleroi people were inattendance at the Bentleyville camp meeting Sunday and the crowds were only one feature of a great day. Bishop Berry preached both morning and evening, the music was an attraction and the religious enthusiasm was marked.

Saturday afternoon the sermon for old soldiers was attended by many veterans of the Civil war and their friends. There was an unusual turnout of cottagers, owing to the delightful weather and the good condition of the roads leading to the camp grounds.

No serious accidents were reported and the great crowds seemed to have been attracted by a desire to spend the day in worship in the open. Bentleyville camp has always been an important event, but the audiences of this season indicate a growing interest in the religious features.

JUDGE CRITICIZES COUNTY JUSTICES

Too Many Trivial Cases Claimed to be Sent to Court for Hearing

Judge McIlvaine took occasion during the progress of court last week to criticise justices who send petty cases to court, which should be disposed of finally by them, without being sent to court.

The remarks were made during the hearing of a surety of the peace case, a mere back yard scrap between two women. Judge McIlvaine remarked that such cases should never be sent to court, but should be disposed of by the justice. "There is no surety of the peace charge," said the court, in the course of these remarks, "when parties merely get into a squabble. Surety of the peace arises when some one cooly, maliciously and with wilful intent intends to kill or do bodily harm. It is the justice's duty, where it is only a scrap and an exchange of threats in a heat of passion, to discharge the cases and divide the costs. They have this authority under the late act of assembly. In this case the justice ought to be here, instead of these people. It is mere idle talk, and not surety of the peace within the meaning of the act."

THE OUTDOOR HABIT

John Burroughs, the noted naturalist, has just given the human race a sage bit of advice. "Balance up things more," he says. "Money is not the whole thing. Live much in the open not too much under cover." For many years Mr. Burroughs has practiced what he preaches. He has lived much in the open, and now in his old age he presents the enviable picture of a hardy, hearty, happy person to whom life is still worth living. He preaches the creed of the simple life and lives his creed.

There is altogether too much of the indoor life. It is bad for the blood, for the nerves, for the digestion, for the whole human anatomy. It is harmful physically, mentally and morally. We live too much under cover, roofed in from the sunshine and the air. We should cultivate the outdoor habit. That outdoor life is the natural life is indicated by the fact that children cannot be kept indoors except under compulsion. Summer and winter spring and fall, the youngsters insist upon getting outside of the house. Unless tied to the bedpost or barricaded against exit they will escape from their house prisons and enjoy the freedom of the great outdoors.

As the years pass the indoor habit grows upon the child and he is less inclined to outdoor pleasures But this is largely a matter of the necessity for money making which holds most of us in its leash. We must stay under cover if our occupation confines us to office or shop. A living must be made out from under cover unless we make the mistake of imagining that money is the whole thing. Now and then there comes a time when we yield to the impulse that ruled us in childhood and that means a camping out excursion or a picnic party or perhaps merely a couch in a screened porch for sleeping purposes. There are many bad habits, but the outdoor habit is one of the good ones.

HOW TO LIVE CHEAPLY.

A magazine writer gives the trenchent advice that to live cheaply you must substitute comfort for show Put convenience in the place of fashion. Study simplicity. Refuse to be beguiled into a style of living above what is required by your position in society and is justified by your resources. Set a fashion of simplicity, neatness, prudence and inepensiveness which others will be glad to follow and thank you for introducing. Teach yourself to do without a thousand and one pretty and showy things which wealthy people purchase, and pride yourself on being just as happy without them as your rich neighbors are with them. Put on much dignity, sincerity, kindness, virtue and love into your simple and inexpensive home that its members will never miss the costly flipperies and showy adornments of _____ be happier in the cosy and comfortable apartments than most of _____ neighbors are in their splendid apartments.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Connie Mack's pitchers run the game," says a well known baseball writer in an eastern newspaper.

"'Take the pitcher's judgment,' was an early season order from Manager Mack and he never changed it," said Paddy Livingston, Athletic catcher. "Chief Bender and Eddie Plank used their own judgment the season before last and did so well the rule was made general. 'Everybody must use his head,' is one of Connie's rules.

"One advantage of the pitcher's judgment counting is in the help he gets from the infielders. Our infielders were the pitcher's advisers. They watched the battle as closely as the battery men. That was part of work.

"Connie doesn't count a stolen base on the catcher. It is even between the pitcher and catcher. 'No catcher can get a base runner who is allowed too much of a lead,' is the way Connie puts it.

"There was never a call down for the pitcher of catcher where Connie believed a fast ball should have been used instead of a curve or vice versa. We were expected to know what to do. Advice came before or after the game and then it was up to both pitcher and catcher

"Mack does a lot of things different from other managers I have played for. Every man on the team has his ear when a suggestion is made. We were all called upon to dig up something at daily dope meetings."

"A couple of fighters on a ball club help a whole lot," says Catcher "Nig" Clarke of St.. Louis.

"A ball player should fight. These easy going fellows never get anything for their team. They let everybody else run over them.

"If I do say it myself, old Bill Bradley and I were the only 'crabs' on the Cleveland club. We would make our kick and be chased from the game, but would be right back again the next day hollering for our rights."

WORKING ON THE WAYNESBURG ROAD

O. K. Taylor, assistant engineer of the State Highway Department, has a force of surveyors going over the route of the proposed State road between Washington and Waynesburg. At present the corps of engineers are in the neighborhood of Prosperity. The route instead of following the creek road, as many expected, goes over the hill from Prosperity by way of the farms of S. D. Minton, J. B. Andrew, John L. Parkinson and others, to Sparta, thence to the Parcell place, thence by way of the residence of Wiley Day, C. H. Andrew, Hugh Auld and others to Ninevah, thence by the creek road to Sycomore and Waynesburg. The Sparta route is reported a mile shorter than the other.

Engineer Taylor said that the state department has given instructions to survey 216 miles of road in Washington county and several miles in Greent county. Complete surveys of all the proposed state roads in Washington and Greent counties must be reported to the department by June 1, 1912.

GOOD REMEDY FOR HICCOUGH

Spasmodic Contractions of Diaphragm Stopped Instantly by Small Quantity of Powdered Sugar.

Hiccough is a sudden and spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm, determining a brusque shock to the walls of the abdominal and thoracic cavity, and is accompanied by a rough and inarticulate sound caused by the sudden closure and sonorous vibration of the vocal cords.

Among the numerous remedies employed against the disagreeable symptoms there is one recommended by Dr. Petit of Beaumont, France, which, although not really new, is but little known. It has the merit of being extremely simple and is said to be remarkably efficacious.

It consists simply in swallowing as quickly as possible a tablespoonful of powdered sugar without any admixture with water. The hiccough will be immediately stopped. If it comes on again, the same remedy again will be found successful.

What is the action of the powdered sugar? Probably it sets up a kind of reflex action. The sugar certainly plays no specific role in this case, and it is probable that any inert powder would have the same effect.

Dr. Petit has made use of this remedy for some years, and it has rarely failed. Accordingly he recommends recourse to it even when the case of hiccoughs may have resisted all the standard remedies.

The Child Snob.

There is a natural, simple and rather high-minded etiquette among children; also is there an unlovely and artificial etiquette among children who have heard and seen too much of an unlovely world; for children can be the worst of snobs. Some little girls, ten or twelve years old, daughters of a rich neighborhood, were found to be examining the petticoats of new children who ventured in their neighborhood to play. Unless their underclothes were hand-made, they were not voted good enough to play in the established set.

A child may be cruelly ostracized for some difference, some lack of clothing or appearance. Do you remember the story of the poor little girl who used to bring blocks tied up in a napkin to school to look as though she had lunch like the other children? But among unspoiled and natural children the child who is different need not suffer for any length of time. A strong character and a sweet temperament will win through any artificial barrier of circumstances.—The Designer.

Faithful to Duty.

When the army of Pompey stormed and took Jerusalem, at the moment the temple was taken, the priests were engaged with the daily sacrifice, and amid all the horrors which surrounded them, they continued their solemn duties unmoved, thinking it better to suffer whatever came upon them at their very altars than to omit anything their law required.

Cultivate Character.

Character is like stock in trade: the more of it a man possesses, the greater his facilities for making additions to it. Character is power—is influence; it makes friends, creates funds; draws patronage and support, and opens a sure and easy way to wealth and happiness.

The Sleep of Children.

There is no physiological reason for concluding that either the night or the morning sleep is the more healthful. Children are, generally, night-sleepers, nevertheless there are children who, after they reach their third year, sleep in the morning. If a child sleeps late, there is no reason for anxiety as long as his sleep is calm and of adequate length.

Cook—You can depend on me, ma'am; I've got some friends of me own coming, too

SEPTEMBER 30th

The Other Way About.

A great many make fun of what they do not understand, simply because they do not understand—that does not hurt the thing they poke fun at, but themselves.

Rather Vague.

"Sir, as the chairman of the committee, we ask you please not to have wines or liquors at your society's coming banquet. Will you permit this?" "I promise you the matter shall have my sober thought."

HIS NAME MOST APPROPRIATE

"Knapp!" It Was and Drowsy Delegate Proceeded to Live Up to Cognomen.

During the morning prior to the opening of the national convention, a special meeting of those delegates already arrived was held to discuss and vote on some preliminary measures. These met in a smaller hall, opposite the convention hall; and when they were all assembled in the stuffy room, one of the members leaned back wearily in his chair and promptly fell asleep.

After an hour's session, the chairman called a vote on a certain measure. All responded but the sleeper, whose snores now and then echoed through the room.

"Here! wake that man up!" demanded the chairman, at this point. "What's his name, anyway?"

No one being able to tell, and no one following the chairman's order to wake the sleeper up, that functionary at once called upon a ballot clerk to carry out the order. So accordingly the clerk hurried down the aisle to the dozer, shook him vigorously by the arm, asking him his name the while.

With a broken snore that perforated the atmosphere, the sleeper awoke.

"What's his name?" again called out the impatient chairman.

At this, the clerk straightened up from the unknown member's chair, and announced, to the accompaniment of a roar of laughter.

"Mr. chairman, he says his name is Knapp."—Judge's Library.

USEFUL ABOUT THE HOUSE

Ammonia Cleans Clothing and Paint and Is Good for Numerous Other Purposes.

In housekeeping ammonia has many uses. It is an efficient help about the wardrobe. Black material, sponged with a cupful of water in which a teaspoonful of ammonia has been mixed, will renew its freshness, while black silk will lose its objectionable shininess by such a sponging. A little ammonia will remove grease from collars, and when rubbed over corsets will cleanse them to a nicety. When mixed with equal parts of turpentine, ammonia will remove paint stains from cloth. If the paint is stubborn it may require several applications before the work is done. Persevere. Nothing is so good for boys' tweed suits as to sponge them with the ammonia mixture. For toilet use, a small quantity will soften the water in which the hair is washed and aid in cleansing the scalp. It renders the bath delightful, and carpets, when thoroughly gone over with ammonia and water, are surprisingly restored to something like their original freshness. When mixed with white wax and turpentine it makes the best of polishes for the floor. To relieve the pain and prevent inflammation resulting from the bites and stings of summer insects ammonia ranks first as a cure.

Portrait Ring Is Novelty.

One of the novelties of the season is the portrait ring. To all appearance the circlet is an ordinary signet ring, with the head massively set. At one side, however, is a spring, which, when pressed, causes the top of the seal to leap back, the signet in reality forming a miniature box. A tiny portrait on copper in colors or monochrome is then disclosed to view.

Coming Celebration.

A little girl in Sabetha, Kan., is to be baptized next Sunday, and she is proudly telling her friends that she is to be "advertised."

GRIPS AS MUSCLE BUILDERS

Traveling Salesman Seems to Have Idea Which Might Really Be Called a Good One.

After dinner they were discussing athletics, and each had his favorite method of reducing or building up. The traveling salesman proudly called attention to a remarkable development of biceps which swelled up beneath his coat sleeve.

"Very good, indeed," said the professor, testing with his fingers. "How do you accomplish it?"

"My method is extremely simple and takes no time away from my work. In fact, it is a result. These muscles have been developed by carrying heavily loaded 'grips,' as we usually call our big handbags on the road. I always carry two, loaded as nearly alike as possible, so I shall not grow one-sided. I began with only one grip, and swung it from one hand to the other, as fatigue impelled, but I found that it is actually easier to carry two than one. I am perfectly balanced with two, and I assure you I need no extra gym work for strengthening my arms, shoulders or back. I almost could carry a piano in each hand if the instruments were not so cumbersome."

CUT OUT FOR A FINANCIER

Youth Beginning Well and Father Seemed Abundantly Justified In His Reasoning.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush.

"Say, Pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a three-hundred-dollar horse for one-fifty will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?"

"What kind of a hoss, my son?" inquired the father cautiously.

"Bay, 4 years old, sixteen hands high, weighs 1,000 pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world;" and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty."

The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk.

"What?" he exclaimed.

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar.

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading hosses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business."—Lippincott's.

ROOM THAT IS SOUND-PROOF

Remarkable Chamber at University of Utrecht That Was Constructed for Scientific Experiments.

The Physiological institute of the University of Utrecht possesses one of the most remarkable rooms in the world, a chamber about seven and a half feet square, which is said to be absolutely noiseless, as far as the entrance of sounds from outside is concerned.

This room is situated on the top story of a laboratory building, and is an inside room, but so arranged that it can be ventilated and inundated with sunshine. The walls, floors and ceiling each consist of half a dozen layers of different substances, with air spaces and interstices filled with sound-deadening materials.

Some persons when in the room experience a peculiar sensation in the ears. While every effort has been made to exclude sounds that are not wanted, of course the object of constructing this singular room was to experiment with phenomena connected with sound. Some of the sounds employed are made in the room itself; others are introduced from outside by means of a copper tube, which is plugged with lead when not in use.

What's the Matter With Thomas?

There are some names which seem peculiarly suited to royalty; Louis, for instance, has a kingly sound. Francis, George, Henry in both spellings, Charles, William, Edward and James all have served their turn. Johns there have been, and Stephens. I remember a Robert in Sicily and a Peter in Russia and Servia. Frederick has often worn the crown, and royal honors are even now paid to Ferdinand in Bulgaria. But was there ever, anywhere, a king named Thomas? Oscars and even Haakens ascend the dais, but ever through all the centuries Thomas remains the subject, sometimes struggling up to a bishopric or an earldom, but never attaining the crown. Nicholases wear the imperial purple; Godfreys lord it over Jerusalem; Alexis struts in ermine; Alexanders fare forth to conquest; Julius and Leo don the triple crown, but Thomas, poor plebeian Thomas, has never a crown to his name. Now tell me, you who are wise in the occult influence of names, what is the matter with Tom?—London Idler.

Washington as a Humorist.

While president Washington's humor seemed to find expression in the diplomacy of self protection. A French revolutionist came to him for a general testimonial, which Washington did not care to grant, yet he did not wish to give offense to the French by a curt refusal, so he wrote an evasive card worthy of Lincoln—"C. Volney needs no recommendation from G. Washington."

After Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown Washington treated him with high consideration. At a dinner given in honor of the distinguished prisoner Rochambeau proposed "The United States" as his toast; Washington responded with "The king of France;" Cornwallis, perforce, faintly suggested "His majesty," when Washington startled them all by announcing, "The king of England—may he stay there!" with a ready wit that made even Cornwallis laugh.—Century.

Cards and Card Playing.

In a paper in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Professor H. Cheney, discussing the part played by gambling in magic, observes: "The use of cards is said to be derived from the Turot cards, which were originally employed for occult purposes. The legend which ascribes the invention of cards to the purpose of amusing a mad king does not seem at all a sufficient explanation, and there is in addition the fact that cards of a kind existed before the said king. In further support of this idea the well known practice of telling fortunes by cards may probably be regarded as a survival of a regular form of divination by such means. It seems, in fact, that card playing for stakes is a mere development of a ceremony in which individuals consulting the oracle decided to abide by its pronouncements as to the holding of disputed property.

Meteors and the Atmosphere.

One of the most useful results arising from the study of sporadic meteors is the light thrown upon the question of the height of the atmosphere, since it is the friction of the air that sets them on fire, and if their elevation is known at the moment of their first appearance the probable height of the atmosphere can be calculated. On Aug. 11, 1909, a brilliant meteor happened to impress its picture simultaneously on three photographic plates, at Tashkend, Iskander and Tschimgan, in Russian Turkestan. The distances between these places furnished base lines from which the height could be deduced. The calculation shows that the meteor first appeared at a height of 69.45 miles above the earth and disappeared at fifty miles.

The Orange In Spain.

It is considered a very healthful thing to eat an orange before breakfast. But who can eat an orange well? One must go to Spain to see that done. The senorita cuts off the rind with her silver knife, then, putting her fork into the peeled fruit, she detaches every morsel with her pearly teeth and continues to eat the orange without losing a drop of the juice and lays down the core with the fork still in it.

Unpalatable.

The Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon was fond of a joke, and his keen wit was, moreover, based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"Can you tell me the reason why the lions didn't eat Daniel?"

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone and the rest was grit."—Youth's Companion.

Going the Rounds.

Husband of Tomorrow (reviewing wedding presents)—That awful cruet seems familiar. Wife of Tomorrow—Yes, dear, you saw it at the Browns. They got it as a wedding present and gave it to the Smiths at theirs. It's the Smiths' present. But never mind, dear; Harry's wedding comes off soon! —London Opinion.

Adroit.

"He is what you might call an adroit man."

"Decidedly. His sins never find him out and his debts never find him in."—Exchange.

Chilly Affair.

Stella—Did you give the bride a shower? Bella—Well, all her friends threw cold water on the bridegroom.—New York Sun.

A strenuous soul hates cheap successes.—Emerson.

WHAT THE GUEST SHOULD BE

Cheerful, Adaptable Man or Woman Will Leave Happy Memory Behind on Leaving.

With the advent of summer comes the beginning of the period when the distinction and the pleasure of being a guest comes to a great many men and women. With the ready assimilation of the American people we have taken that exotic phrase, the week-end, to our common usage. And whether we are invited to go sailing in a hundred-dollar catboat, roughing it literally in a shanty called a bungalow, or enjoying the luxuries of a rich friend's country estate, we are all week-ending with the same catholicity of spirit that we show in the national habit of carrying suit cases. Hospitality has two faces—those of the host and the guest. And the most difficult one to present with an attractive mien is that of the latter estate. Cheerfulness is the most desirable characteristic of the ideal guest and second to this comes a readiness of spirit to enter any plan for the day or the night's pleasure. The adaptable man or woman is the one dearest to a host's heart; and you may pluck the reward of your entertainer's gratitude by your readiness to wash dishes as by your tolerance of a dub player at tennis or bridge in more luxurious surroundings. We all of us pay our way through the world through other mediums than that of the currency of the realm. None does this more certainly than the guest who leaves a happy memory behind him.—Philadelphia Press.

Various Uses for the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bowstrings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

Persistent Rooks.

Rooks have built a nest on a telephone pole in a busy thoroughfare in the center of Dover. As soon as the nest assumed any dimensions it fell, or was blown from the pole, and then the birds attached it to the insulators. Telephone employes knocked the nest down but, undaunted, the birds set to work and have built again.

Modern Teachers Criticised.

Our educators are owl-wise, our teachers are pedants and all their ambition is the turning out of smooth, well-polished philistines. It is certainly unfortunate that the favored type of superintendent of our public education should be such a hopeless philistine, possessed of all the conceit of the mediocre business man. Routine is his ideal. Originality is spurned and suppressed—Dr. Boris Sidis.

Once Was Enough.

"Of course," said the surgeon who had operated for appendicitis, "there will be a scar." "That's all right," replied the patient. "Leave any kind of mark you like that will prevent some strange doctor from coming along and operating again."—Winchester Herald.

Kindness.

It is kindness that makes life's capabilities blossom and paints them with their cheering hues and endows them with their invigorating fragrance. Whether it waits on its superiors, or ministers to its inferiors, or disports itself with its equals, its work is marked with a prodigality which the strictest discretion cannot blame.

Have an Aim in Life.

Go into a factory where they make mariners' compasses, and you may see the needles before they have been magnetized. They will then point in any direction, but from the moment they are applied to the magnet they point to the north, and are true to the pole ever afterward. In this they are like the young man before and after he has a purpose in life.

White Man's Burden.

As a general thing we are quite sorry for the man who has to work for a living and maintain a set of neat little side-whiskers at the same time.

What Fear Did.

A wealthy man in New York committed suicide when his doctor told him he had appendicitis. A post mortem revealed that he did not have it. His fear of evil was worse than the evil itself.—Prov. 1:33.

Easing a Cough.

For children who have passed the baby stage, linseed tea is the best thing known to ease a cough. Pour two quarts of boiling water on one ounce of whole linseed and twelve drachms of licorice root sliced. Add to this a slice or two of lemon. Let this stand in a jug covered over for six or seven hours, then strain it and sweeten to taste and it will be ready for use.

Adds to Life of Boilers.

By subjecting boilers to weak electric currents from dynamos through apparatus he has invented, an Australian scientist claims to prevent their corrosion by the electro-chemical action of the water.

"TILLIE" DEWAR HAS ANOTHER YEAR OF FOOTBALL YET

Herbert "Tillie" Dewar of California, a former well known Charleroi man has another year in football at Pitt, but he is undecided as to whether he will return this fall. Joe Thompson is counting upon his returning and working at quarter. With a hard schedule to play, Thompson would surely miss Dewar were he not to enter college. Dewar is one of the hardiest players on the team, and to the grandstand it looked as though Thompson entrusted him with the risky work in the tight places during the hard games.

MISUNDERSTANDINGS RESULT IN NO GAME ON PRICEDALE LOT

Through a misunderstanding there was no game between Pricedale and the Charleroi Independents Saturday afternoon at Pricedale. Members of the Pricedale team, it appears, delayed somewhat in getting their advertising matter out, and changed the time of the game from 3:45 o'clock to 5 o'clock There were further misunderstandings and the result was that the Charleroi team appearing on the ground found nobody in sight They left after practicing a while.

Develop Individuality.

Care should be taken in the large family that each child develops an individuality, says the London Sketch Sometimes, especially in the case of girls, it is a good idea to send children to different schools. This seems an extreme measure, but is worth the consideration of the parents who find that their brood are dropping into slovenly habits of speech, into codes and rules of their own, and a general contempt and disregard of the rest of the world

To Settle Boundary Dispute.

The century-old dispute over the boundary between Persia and Turkey in Asia from Mt. Ararat south to the Persian gulf seems to be at last in a fair way to be settled At a conference recently held in Constantinople both governments agreed to submit the points in contest to The Hague tribunal and to abide by its decision.

SEEMINGLY STRONG PLAYERS NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

This Year Great Time for Petering Out of Minors in Fast Company

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

"Every club in the American League has at least on player of whom great things were expected, or who started well, but petered out. This is a great season for exploded phenoms," says the Cleveland Press.

Wise old Connie Mack stands out as the manager who was fooled worst Connie was stung on Lefty Russell, for whom he gave Baltimore $12,500. Russell was a sensation in the Eastern league last season, but the step from a fast minor league into fast company was too much for Lefty. Connie admitted he was stung when he asked for waivers on Russell, and Lefty would be in some minor league now had not the Cubs refused to pass up claim on him. Russell has been in seven games. He remained to finish only three of the seven, and all three were defeats.

Ping Bodie isn't slugging any more for the White Sox, and Frank Lange, counted as a sure star pitcher after brilliant work last season, has disappointed Comiskey.

Jack Lively started like a wonderful pitcher for the Tigers, but has fallen by the wayside.

'Gene Elliott and Otis Johnson, Yankee infielders, failed to deliver the goods after showing brilliant form in Cleaning.

Chris. Nunamaker, young Red Sox catcher, looked like a real star the first three weeks of the season, but catches now only when Bill Carrigan isn't fit. Joe Jackson started Nunamaker down hill when the Red Sox were at League park the first time this season. Joe was on third and another Nap on first and a double steal was attempted. Joe started in, stopped until Nunamaker started to throw to second and then scored. Patsy Donovan didn't use Nunamaker again for a week.

Bill Cunningham, whom Jim McAleer thought was a sure star second baseman, isn't playing after a long trial at second.

Williams and Murray, St. Louis outfielders, who looked good at the start of the season, went before a month was past.

Crum Kaler is the big Nap disappointment.

Easily Ahead.

An Irishman who was fond of the liquor came home one night all in, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch says. Four or five of his friends carried him out to a graveyard, dug a hole and put him down there to sleep off his jag. When he woke in the morning he climbed out of the hole and looked all around the cemetery. "By gorra," he said. "I'm the first one up, anyway."

Shipwreck Safer.

It is getting so that it is safer to be shipwrecked on the ocean than it is to be a passenger in a skidding automobile.—Syracuse Herald.

Finally Ascended Mountain.

After years of effort to reach its summit, which lies 6,500 feet above sea level, Mount Hothnam, Australia, has at last been conquered by motorists. The other day two motorists climbed up to its highest summit through gum tree forests, and over vast wastes of fern and sand. Fully 100 cars have attempted to climb this mountain but failed. The grades are so sharp that it is difficult in a long pull to lubricate the front cylinders of motors.
